

Liars Index®

Calculated semiannually by the Executive Search and Selection firm Jude M. Werra & Associates of Brookfield, WI, the Liars Index® reports the percentage of cases where jobseekers submitting their credentials have misrepresented their education claims. The numbers have fluctuated widely over the 18 years that the Liars Index® has been calculated.

Jude has been widely recognized for creating the Liars Index®, which measures the percentage of executives who misrepresent their education claims on their resumes. Many media outlets have reported on this semi-annual index, including The Wall Street Journal, Business Week, The New York Times, U.S. News and World Report, USA Today, The New Yorker, The Philadelphia Inquirer, The Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, The Business Journal, Associated Press (radio, television and print), CNNfn, ABC's Good Morning America, Minnesota Public Radio, CBC broadcasts, and other media around the world.

He is now “searching” for a firm to take over this internationally known survey.
