Background screening is turning into a typical practice in many nations over the world since talent acquisition is no more confined to a specific geography. This instigated curiosity about the complexities and in-country specific compliance norms while conducting a background screening.

In this context, a study was conducted by Neeyamo Global Research Institute (nGRAIN), to measure the difficulties encountered while doing international background screening

We invite you to join us for a webinar that talks about the complexities of screening and also provides you access to "The Screening Complexity Index 2020" to smoothen your screening woes!

There's more to global background screening than what meets the eye. Here's nGRAIN's 'Screening' Complexity Index to help you untangle the web.

WHEN: September 3rd, Thursday 10:30 EST|15:00 BST
