Case Study: How BChex Plans to Save Up to $1.2M with idiTRACE™

What if you could improve the efficiency of your background screening process and save over a million dollars doing it?

That's exactly what BChex, a leading background screening company, expects to do over the next 48 months—thanks to implementing IDI's identity intelligence solution, idiTRACE, as part of its internal preparation process. Covering nearly 100% of the U.S. adult population and powered by a massive repository with historical depth of over 30 years, idiTRACE maximizes match rates while reducing false positives, improving efficiency, and business outcomes.

Read IDI's latest case study outlining how BChex leveraged idiTRACE's pointer data to tackle a common industry challenge:

➡ Incorrect address information leading to inconsistencies, inaccurate criminal record findings, and costly manual county searches.

Here's what changed with idiTRACE:

- 20% fewer credit header address inconsistencies
- Lower per-record search costs
- Faster processing, optimizing resources, and increasing profitability

The bottom line? BChex projects $900K to $1.2M in savings over the next four years, thanks to precise address histories from idiTRACE.
